DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4,7-9,13-14,16,18,20-21,23-25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Smith (U.S. Patent # 5,001,620) in combination with (Smith (U.S. Patent # 4,977,493) or Karlsson (U.S. Patent # 5,654,626).

Smith (620) disclose the claimed subject matters a power factor correction circuit (figure 1), including a first series circuit (figure 1, item 14), a booster reactor (figure 1, item L3), a wind-up winding (figure 1, item L4), a first diode (figure 1, item D16), a smoothing capacitor (figure 1, item C12), a second series circuit with main switch (figure 1, item Q1). Smith (620) does not disclose the utilization of the technique for zero-current switching reactor, a third, and fourth and fifth series circuit. Smith (493) teaches the utilization of the similar technique for zero-current switching reactor (figure 3, item L2) and third, fourth and fifth series circuit (figure 6, item D2-D5) or Karlsson's (figure 1, item L3). It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to modify Smith's (620) power factor correction circuit by utilizing the technique taught by Smith (493) or Karlsson for the purpose of restriction of power losses due to the reverse current thru the main diode in a boost converter.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-6,10-12,15,17,19,22 and 26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
